B. Types of planning

Types of Planning

B1. Types of planning: Strategic

Strategic planning

- Strategic planning is a model of planning that places greater emphasis on creativity, innovation and intuition, where events are anticipated rather than reacted to.

Typical Strategic Planning Process

- Mission
- Vision
- Environmental Scan – Internal and External
Data Analysis
- Goals and Objectives
- Strategies/Projects/Programs
- Measures of Success

Strategic planning steps

- Establish the ground rules (participation, task force, timeline, etc)
- Develop mission statement
- Conduct an environmental analysis (eg, PETS)
- Resource analysis (strengths, weaknesses - SWOT)
- Identify strategic issues (library's future)
- Define future strategies (where library is going)
- Decide on programs (how to get there – projects)
- Implement and plan to evaluate (success?)

Environmental scanning

- Libraries operate in unique environments.
- These affect the way a library performs, the services it provides and the markets in which they operate.
- As these evolve, their impact will vary over time.
- Therefore, it is necessary to scan the environment regularly.
- PESTLE.

How to do a library environmental scan

- Find someone else who has done it (eg, OCLC, Ithaka S+R, Horizon)
- Maintain awareness of professional developments
- Maintain political awareness (local and beyond)
- Attend conferences, courses, seminars etc
- Talk to colleagues
- Read lots
- Look at what the competition is doing – borrow liberally.

B2. Types of planning: Scenario

Scenario planning

- “...is a discipline for rediscovering the original entrepreneurial power of creative foresight in contexts of accelerated change, greater complexity, and genuine uncertainty.”
  - Pierre Wack, Royal Dutch/Shell, 1984
  - http://www.juergendaum.com/news/09\_08\_2001.htm

Scenario planning

- Envisioning a library future
- Choosing alternatives
- Creating a path to a preferred future

- “ . . . the librarian of the future . . . will be expected to be quite a versatile creature . . . able to imagine futures and work towards them.”
  - Feret, B and Marcinek, M. (1999), The Future of the Academic Library and the Academic Librarian: a Delphi study. Librarian Career Development, 7(10), p91-107.

C. Case Study: The University of Hong Kong Library Planning Cycle

Hong Kong

The scenery he (Albert Einstein) beheld upon entering the harbor of Hong Kong (in November (1922)) was the most beautiful he had seen on the entire journey: with long mountainous islands alongside the rocky shore, the harbor between, them, and the many small islands rising steeply from the sea, the scene and the many small islands rising steeply from the sea, the scene reminded him of a 'half-drowned' Alpine landscape. (Elsinger (2011: p.31)).

D. Library consortia: Benefits and tensions

Cooperation:

Voluntary arrangement in which two or more entities engage in a mutually beneficial exchange instead of competing

Business Dictionary

“Civilization exists within the context of ... irresolvable tension born of compromise. To reap the benefits of a civilized existence, we need to curb certain natural tendencies. Library consortial activities ... embody and reveal *several irresolvable tensions.”

– Thomas Peters, 2003.

Why Co-operate?

- Common challenges
- Geographical and logistical opportunities
- Benefits for each institution
- Cost-efficiency – $$s
- Cost-effectiveness – scale

F. Conclusion

Final words

- Planning at the individual library level is essential for the future success of libraries
- Library consortia are critical to the future success of libraries
- Library consortia planning improve the effectiveness of consortial goals
